

Don't Count On Early End To War, P.M.G. Cautions Canadians

Hon. W. P. Mulock Tells Lions Of Efforts Made To See That Parcels Reach Boys Overseas Safely

Don't count too much on the war ending this year, Hon. W. P. Mulock, postmaster-general, told the Newmarket Lions club on Monday evening.

After telling of a visit to Britain, to straighten out mail difficulties, Col. Mulock spoke of a visit to a fighter squadron station. "I saw them take off, and I am glad to say that all our planes came back that day," Col. Mulock related. "You will find no finer bunch of boys anywhere. They are under no illusion that it will be a short war."

"The Germans have shown in recent weeks that they have the reserves and that they have the power to come back."

"The Nazi party cannot afford to give in the way the Germans gave in in the last war. They know that if their fellow Germans don't get at them what the Poles, Czechs, Dutch and French will do to them. The Nazis have a strong internal army. They will maintain morale. They will fight as long as Germany can fight."

"If we ever give up without obtaining the unconditional surrender demanded by Churchill and Roosevelt, it will be an unhappy world for us."

"We have gone without things, but let us compare our lot with that of the people of Poland, Holland, Belgium and Greece, and I don't think that our sacrifices have been too great."

"The Nazis have nothing to lose by going on, and everything to gain. We are just starting to fight. We are just starting to fight."

"I have never seen finer troops than our Canadian troops overseas. They are having courses that were never thought of in the last war and they have a desire to get at the Germans."

Col. Mulock was talking to some of the "boys who were at Dieppe" and found them longing for another chance to return to the continent.

"Modern battle, modern equipment, modern fighting conditions are terrible," said Col. Mulock. "Let us not imagine that we are going to win without sacrifice. If they are willing to give their lives, don't let us at home let them down. Let us fight to the finish."

Col. Mulock said that so many civilian wants have been postponed, so many articles such as washing-machines and materials, that their manufacture after the war will "provide a tremendous amount of employment."

"So far as farmers are concerned, this continent will have a great duty to perform to save the people of Europe," Col. Mulock said. "I don't think that we will have any great unemployment after the war such as we had after the last war."

Only Little Way To Go, Town and District Must Go Over Top

Red Cross Needs Few More Dollars To Make Quota,
Citizens All Urged To Have Share In Undertaking

The Red Cross campaign draws to a close and while the objective has not as yet been reached the local committee is hopeful that before the end of the week the amount set as Newmarket's objective will have been exceeded.

Campaign headquarters say: "There are still a number of names appearing on the 1942 campaign lists where no subscription appears for 1943 and if anyone has not been called on yet they should leave their subscription with either of the banks or, if you know your canvasser, give the amount to them, or telephone them and they will call on you. The canvassers have worked diligently to cover every home and in many cases have called several times without finding anyone at home. Please co-operate and assist in putting this objective over the top. Only a few more dollars are needed."

"There are many people living in town whose names do not appear as supporters of this worthy cause to date. Surely no one living in Canada who is at all able would permit this situation. Remember this weekly paper goes overseas—and it would be too bad if our boys over there should decide that they would not defend us when we have failed to support them. Think it over, not too late yet to send in your subscription. Every dollar counts."

"Consider what the officers and men at the local military camp have done. They have been called into service, leaving good positions, comfortable homes and happy families to fight this war for us who remain at home. It should not be their lot to provide funds for war services."

"This is the duty of the civilians who are left at home in comfort and yet these men asked to be permitted to contribute to the Red Cross and sent the local committee the magnificent sum of $351.11. If our men and women in uniform can do that surely we can now make up the balance of that $7,500 objective."

"There is still time—call your canvasser or leave your donation, when downtown, with either of the banks."

The chairman, H. E. Lambert expressed appreciation for the wholehearted co-operation given by the canvassers, the press, advertisers and every subscriber who has been so generous in supporting the drive.

SOCIAL SERVICE BOOKS NEEDED, HINTS MAYOR

An increased grant of $300, making a total grant of $1,500, was requested by W. A. McCaffrey, chairman, and H. M. Gladman, secretary, of the public library board, at a town council meeting on Tuesday evening.

"The public is demanding more new books," said Mr. McCaffrey. "We are always being told that Aurora has new books. It has been our policy in the past to wait and buy reprints. We are entitled to a grant of up to 50 cents a head of population. We would be entitled to a good deal more than $1,500, not including the camp population. We have lent books to the soldiers, and are glad to help the camp."

Mr. Gladman stated that the library has 1,200 books on loan to the public all the time.

"What is the demand?" asked Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales.

"Unfortunately, it is mostly for fiction," said Mr. McCaffrey. "Recently books on China, Japan, etc., have been more in demand."

Mr. Gladman said that the library had lent 25,000 books last year.

"Why is it necessary to have a library at all?" asked Dr. Dales.

"Ask Mr. Vale, he is one of the best customers," said Mr. Gladman.

"What good is the library?" asked Dr. Dales.

"Well, 1,200 people are borrowing all the time," said Mr. Gladman.

"Why don't they buy their own books and periodicals?" insisted the mayor.

"That would cut their reading 80 percent," said Mr. Gladman.

"What good does the library do?" continued the mayor.

"It puts the best literature at the people's fingertips," replied Mr. Gladman.

"You mean it is educational," said the mayor.

"Yes," said Mr. Gladman.

"Apparently it is not educational enough when it comes to some members of the council and some members of the public," declared the mayor.

"Put in some books on the arts and sciences, and social welfare."

"The mayor thinks that you should have a course on public health nurses," explained Mr. Vale to the puzzled councillors.

Later in the evening when the no-rush budget came before the council, Dr. Dales moved that provision be made for an additional $200 grant for the public library.

Councillor J. L. Spillette suggested to Mr. McCaffrey and Mr. Gladman how the latest books, slightly used, might be purchased cheaply. Mayor Dales urged that they appeal to private citizens to give to the library good books which they have read.

Reduce Rate A Mill, No V.O.N. Grant, Is Council's Decision

Two-Mill Reduction Was Considered By Finance
Committee, Reeve F. A. Lundy Tells Town Council

Reeve Fred A. Lundy's finance committee presented to the town council on Tuesday evening a budget which provided for a 40-mill tax rate, a reduction of one mill from last year.

This was made up of 20 mills for schools and 20 mills for general purposes, as compared with 21.5 for schools and 19.5 for general purposes last year.

Mr. Lundy presented the itemized figures to the council. "The public school grant of $22,500 is up $500 from last year," said Mr. Lundy.

"The reason that the separate school grant is down is that there are some public school debentures off and the separate school gets one-twelfth of the total for public schools," explained N. L. Mathews, K.C., clerk, treasurer and solicitor.

Mr. Lundy said that the committee was considering a rate of 39 mills, until the high school board discovered an error in its calculations and asked for $700 more.

Mr. Lundy said that the grants of $3,500 were intended to cover $425 for the Soldier-Citizen club, $120 for the library board, $800 for the Citizens' band, $50 for Civilian Defence Committee, $50 for the tennis club, $1,000 for York County hospital and $100 for the Horticultural Society.

This made a total of $3,425. Earlier in the evening the library had presented a request for $1,500, and Councillor A. D. Evans asked that the $200 granted to the R.S.A. bugle band last year should be made available this year for other similar boys' work.

Mr. Mathews said that his original draft had provided $4,000 for grants but that the committee had cut it down. "Now you are short $500," he said.

"All the grants have to be passed on individually," said Councillor Joseph Vale.

"Organizations put us in a difficult place when they do not make their requests early," said Mr. Lundy.

Dr. Dales moved for an addition of $200 to the library board grant, but dropped this in view of the statement that the council would revise the grants as necessary when they were voted.

Councillor Wm. Dixon asked how the figure of $44,000 for the cost of hydro-electric power was reached.

"We can't tell what it will be," said Mr. Mathews. "It is an estimate. It might vary $1,000 either way."

Mr. Mathews said that the Cotter St. well expenditure had been carried at the bank for some time and the first payment of $4,000 on principal and interest on debentures still to be issued should be pre-levied this year.

"Your committee has put in a lot of time and work on this budget," said Mr. Lundy. He commented that the town's debenture debt was at a new low.

"The position of this town in 1946-47, unless something terrible happens, will be such that this will be a very nice place to live," said Dr. Dales. "The tax rate will be down."

"It should be 35 mills by then," said Mr. Evans.

"Maybe then we will be able to build sidewalks and do some other things we should," said Dr. Dales.

"We should go on year by year reducing the mill rate and the debenture rate," said Mr. Lundy.

"I think that the people in this town will feel that their financial affairs are being pretty well looked after," said Dr. Dales. "But the mill rate can't go down forever, for some things have to be done."

After the budget had been dealt with, Dr. Dales asked that the council deal with a notice of motion by Councillors Frank Bowser and J. L. Spillette for a grant of half a mill, to be paid on a monthly basis, to be made for a V.O.N. nurse. He said that the notice of motion had been given early in February.

"In view of the fact that members of the council voted on the budget I don't see where you would get the money," said Councillor Joseph Vale. "I don't see how members of the council who voted for the budget, with no provision for a V.O.N. grant, can vote for this resolution. It should have been brought up before the budget."

"I still think that there is sufficient buffer in the budget for the grant," said Dr. Dales. "We should vote on this in fairness to the ladies who have done so much work."

"I think that at that meeting with the V.O.N. representative it was agreed that if a committee (Page 8, Col. 6)

MAJORITY RULES

The "nurse question" is settled for the present. The town council on Tuesday evening adopted a budget which made no provision for a grant for a V.O.N. nurse. The mayor, Dr. L. W. Dales, afterward insisted that the notice of motion, given early in February by Councillors Frank Bowser and J. L. Spillette, be dealt with by the council. Mr. Bowser, feeling that the situation had changed, withdrew his name as sponsor of the resolution for a grant to the V.O.N. Mr. Spillette said that he was still enthusiastic about a nurse, though in some doubt as to whether there was an acute shortage of nurses. He was still ready to support a grant but said that there was no need to put it to a formal vote.

The mayor said that the national registration of nurses did not mean that there was a shortage of nurses but that the government wanted to know where the nurses were. The mayor was still in favor of a V.O.N. nurse. Dr. Dales has made every effort to keep his promise of a grant for a V.O.N. nurse, and has made a contribution toward improved health services for Newmarket. The men and women of the day after tomorrow may be the beneficiaries.

The majority decision has been that "this is not the time." That is fair enough.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

(Under this heading are reprinted interesting opinions from other publications. -With what said The Era and Express editorial columns might or might not agree.)

BARRIE POINTS THE WAY

(Midland Free Press-Herald)

Midland and Penetanguishene folks cannot but be a bit envious of Barrie when they read that the town council of the county town has effected an arrangement for garbage collection which brings that service within the reach of all.

By paying a subsidy of $1,000 to a garbage collector the town has made it possible for all citizens who wish it to have their garbage removed twice weekly. The householders will pay 25 cents a month.

In Midland such householders as wish it make their private arrangements with garbage collectors. Instead of 25 cents per month, however, the charge is usually 25 cents per week.

Midland and Penetang councils might well seek to discover if some similar solution could not be found to that which is now working in Barrie. There is nothing more vital to the health and well-being of a community than that its garbage should be collected and disposed of regularly.

If the Barrie plan is not suitable then why not that in vogue in Amherstburg? The Echo of that town says:

"Here the problem was tackled as long ago as 1928. The council took a firm stand and without the red tape of putting it to a vote, instituted a municipal system of garbage collection which serviced every part of the town twice a week. Although this has cost money, $2,146.55 in 1942, it was one of the most popular moves ever made by an Amherstburg council. During depression years, when it was necessary to save in every possible way, Amherstburg citizens didn't mind the piling to the bone in all departments but when the cutting of the garbage collections was mooted, there was a protest from every part of the town."

WEAKNESS OR STRENGTH

(Bowmanville Canadian Statesman)

As part of their appeal to citizens whose votes they are so earnestly soliciting for the next election, adherents of the socialist C.C.F. party are continually emphasizing weakness in our present system of free enterprise. The C.C.F. does not dwell, however, on what any person who is able and willing to think must realize—that all the material things that we Canadians enjoy and most of the privileges that are ours have come to us as the result of free enterprise.

The situation has been stated briefly by R. P. Jellett, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, as follows:

"The advocates of jettisoning free enterprise in favor of state ownership can make all kinds of promises, as they are without either business experience or responsibility. Free enterprise, on the other hand, can point to real attainments and an increase in production over the years of the machine age, and such promises as it can make will be based on sound foundations. Don't let the sneers of the leftists shake our confidence in the sureness of sound economic progress by recognized means. The multitude of their words hides the impracticability of their schemes, which cannot stand up under cool thought and analysis. No matter how thin they slice the idea that state operation of business and finance will raise the standard of living, it is still bologna."

We may be living in an imperfect world under abnormal conditions but we cannot afford to exchange the substantial advantages which we now have for promises which are impossible of fulfillment except at a cost which we cannot afford and which we are unwilling to pay.

THE FARMERS' POSITION

(Financial Post)

Bankers have often been accused of failing to show either understanding or sympathy for the problems of the farmer. There may sometime have been some justification for such a charge but not today. Typical is this extract from the presidential report of C. H. Carlisle to shareholders of the Dominion Bank:

"The rapid advance in farm prices apparently is surprisingly high, but there are compensating conditions that must be taken into account. At the outbreak of war, farm prices were only on a parity with those of 1914. Therefore, an increase of 32 percent over these subnormal prices does not seem to be unjust when we take into consideration the farmer's increased costs. Labor costs the farmer twice as much, or more, than formerly. Again, the farmer has no certainty of securing experienced labor and, therefore, is in a quandary as to the stock that he may raise or the products that he may grow. Farm prices should not be permitted to further increase, but government should see to it that the farmer's costs are decreased, providing him at all times a reasonable profit."

FOREST ANIMALS STAR IN DISNEY'S "BAMBI"

In "Bambi" running to the strand theatre, April 5 and 6, Walt Disney is offering his most important and his most adult feature-length picture. The original of "Bambi" is the best-selling Felix Salten novel, which enjoyed the distinction of being a book-of-the-month choice, with a record to date of more than 600,000 sales.

The picture has been in production for five years, having been started before "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." It represents the highest peak of achievement by the man who has created a whole new form of entertainment.

Technically miraculous as it is, it is the emotional content of "Bambi" which gives it its greatest importance. The life cycle of every being with a heart to love with, a soul to rejoice with, a body to suffer with, is followed in the story. Birth, growth, romance, anguish, triumph—all are found in "Bambi."

Through his wild animal characters, Disney tells what may be called one of the great love stories of the world.

Bambi is a deer, the Prince of the Forest. His friends are Thumper, the captivating little cottontail; Flower, a skunk who can be described only as very sweet; Faline, the doe Bambi wins after a life-and-death fight; and many other inhabitants of the great forest.

Perhaps the most brilliant part of "Bambi" is the sequence in which the stalwart young buck and his friends succumb to the "twisted" influence against which they have been warned by the wise old Owl. This sequence is inspired tonfollery, and "twitter-pated" no doubt will at once become the word to describe being tapturpously in love.

Bambi, Thumper and Flower, as they strut down a trail in a great forest, are all the lusty, self-assured young men who ever lived. And the little lady doe, cottontail and skunk are all the girls who ever wagged a finger to bring their men running in a state of silly ecstasy.

Spectacle is handled excitingly in "Bambi." One scene which is Jimmy Fox, who says he is through with baseball, hit 527 home runs while he was in the big leagues. This is the most ever hit by a right-handed batsman. He drove in 100 runs or over for 13 consecutive seasons.

There are left-handed bowling shoes. This sounds funny, but down in Baltimore there are special shoes made for bowlers who throw from the port-side.

Manager Jimmy Wilson of the Chicago Cubs says that a batter should use a heavy bat against a fast-ball pitcher and a light one against a curve-ball pitcher. This is quite a change from the generally accepted theory of batting.

Clark Griffith, head man of the Washington Senators, who has watched all of the good ball players come and go for the past 40 years, says that if the American League were using the dead ball today George Case would steal more bases than any man who ever lived.

A Hollywood Pacific coast league pitcher once lost a ball game without throwing a ball. There were three men on base when he went in to relieve another pitcher. Before he got a chance to throw the ball to the plate he balked and the winning run was scored. Larry French won a ball game for Pittsburgh without pitching a ball.

There were two men out, the score was tied, it was the first half of the ninth, three on base, when French went in as relief pitcher. Before he threw a ball to the catcher he picked a man off first base. The Pirates went ahead and won the game for French in the last half of the ninth.

The morning after every hockey game Paul Thompson of the Chicago Black Hawks calls all the players together and discusses with them the good and bad plays of the night before.

Did you know that those fine reconstructed hockey games by Norm Marshall over CHML, Hamilton, are all made up from a 2,400 word Canadian press summary which he receives over the telegraph wires. On two or three occasions certain Toronto interests have tried to stop the broadcasts, but they have had no luck so far.

Round Our Town

The Newmarket juvenile entry was supposed to take on Aurora in a game on Tuesday night but lack of ice cancelled the fixture. The way things look right now the game will probably never be played. If the weatherman keeps blowing those balmy breezes for the next few days all the ice will soon be gone from the local arena. The kids did have a good time while they were out there this year and in all likelihood will start next season as a junior club. With about three good teen-aged youngsters to bolster the present roster, they might get somewhere.

Cliff Gunn, the young man about town who has coached the juvenile entry this year, is treating the boys on the club to a hockey game at Maple Leaf Gardens this week. The game they expect to watch will be between Toronto R.C.A.F. Flyers and Ottawa Commandos. This should give the boys a chance to see some of the big name hockey stars in action.

"Sugar Jim" Henry, Alce Shibecky, the Coville brothers and many other former N.H.L. hockey stars will play in this series. The tickets for the game will set Cliff back around $20. The boys should give a great big round of applause to their coach.

Brampton camp hockey team seem to just keep rolling along in their quest for an intermediate title. Last week they took on Nobel in a home and home game series and when the final accounting had been made Brampton took the round by the lopsided score of 28-4. Their next opponents will be Peterboro.

This is another soldier outfit. By the way, have any of our readers noticed the way the Toronto sports writers have taken the Brampton team to heart. Twice during the past week or so Eddie Fitkin of the Star has written feature articles about the team.

CHRISTADELPHIANS

The Bible declares that there is an end to war, and the purpose of God to fill the earth with His glory will be accomplished. "Glory to God in the highest" will be rendered by men when God's king reigns. Consequently there will be peace and plenty on earth with goodwill among men. The result—complete disarmament. FATHER AND UNCLE PERFORM NUPTIALS

Trinity United church was decorated with ferns and pink and white snaddragons for the wedding on Monday evening of Dorothy Olive, second daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Henry Cotton, Newmarket, to Lieut. Frederick Gill of the 48th Highlanders of Canada, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weldon Gill of Meaford. The bride's father performed the ceremony assisted by the bride's uncle, Rev. E. W. L. Brailley, B.A., of Gleebe Road United church, Toronto. Mrs. Marjorie Armour, A.T.C.M., sister of the bride, played the wedding music and Miss Gwen Lambert sang "My World" during the singing of the register.

The bride looked lovely in white net over satin, with fitted bodice and bouffant skirt. She wore a finger-tip veil and carried a cascade bouquet of red roses, 2nd Lieut. Elizabeth Gill, C.W.A.C., Ottawa, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids, Miss Elva L. Cotton, sister of the bride, and Miss Eleanor Walker of Toronto, were gownned alike in blue crepe fabric and on similar line to the bride's, in the new war-time length. They wore cat's and veils to match and carried bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Lieut. Wesley W. Niles was best man. The ushers were Lieut. Don Moore and Lieut. Jack Weir of Newmarket military camp. At the reception held in the church parlors, the bride's mother received, wearing a printed silk dress with navy accessories and a corsage of blue iris and pink carnations. She was assisted by the groom's mother wearing rose crepe with blue and blue and blue and a corsage of blue iris and pink carnations.

For travelling the bride wore a blue silk jersey dress with blue check coat and hat and navy accessories. The happy couple left for Toronto, London and points on Georgian Bay. On their return, they will reside in Newmarket.

Guests included Col. R. B. Harkness, O.C. of Newmarket military camp, Major N. R. Young, Major and Mrs. W. H. Swayze, all of Newmarket; Mr. and Mrs. G. Spenger, Misses Jean and Margaret Bocking, A. Aldridge of Toronto; Sgt. Francis Armour, Mr. and Mrs. T. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. A. Turner, Long Branch; Mrs. W. Cunningham, Owen Sound; Mrs. H. Robinson of Meaford.

DOWN THE CENTRE

Brampton camp have now walloped Nobel and are looking for fresh worlds to conquer.

Doc. Dafe, a star with Oshawa Generals, and then with Whitby Intermediates, has been added to the team and also "Snowball" Wilson, a defenceman from Oshawa. They are looking stronger each time out.

Coach Bob Edwards of the Brampton team, formerly a sergeant-major, but not as a hockey reward.

Herbie Cain failed to achieve his ambition of scoring at least 20 goals this season but did reach the 18 mark which along with a like number of assists gave him 36 scoring points. Not too bad for a third-line player and double his total of last season. He spent a total of 19 minutes in the sin-bin.

Bill Thomas, for the first time in some years, failed to get as many scoring points as the year previous. Newmarket Bill got a 43-point total, made up of 15 goals and 23 assists. He only spent 11 minutes in the sin-bin. Thoms, of course, is through for the season, while Herbie has a chance to go higher in the scoring hunt.

Don Pector, Newmarket born and Aurora educated, spent most of his time on the coaching bench but did amass 13 points. His lowest in 16 years of competition. He is doing a swell job of "masterminding."

Intermediate trail finds Peterborough, Windsor, Aurora, Brampton camp, South Ontario, Niagara Falls, Paris, Owen Sound and Camp Borden. Rams left in the running.

Don Pector, former Barrie junior, who comes from South Porcupine, has been added to the Rams' strength. Owen Sound are favored by those who have seen both teams in action to win the group. Camp Borden Whizzers fell to a weak Nobel team and don't deserve any further comment. Rams just about set their Waterloo with Walker. We call Peterborough to take the title.

Peterborough juniors are back in the O.H.A. playoffs, tho' why nobody seems to know. They were eliminated by Barrie, who were in turn put out by Milton. Now Milton must start all over again, and defeat Peterborough. It doesn't add up.

Bob Green, former Markham junior, who played with Barrie juniors most of the season, has moved on from Borden pastures to new fields. Barrie in their last O.H.A. game found themselves stymied by military drafts and were forced to use juvenile players. Teams depending on military players, unless service teams, are as a rule treading on dangerous ice.

St. Andrew's College have only the cricket pitch left to redeem their athletic honor. Hopelessly crushed at football, they went through a poor hockey schedule, winning against the second raters, but taking it on the chin against their usual opposition. U.T.S. met them in the first round of the O.H.A. and whipped them at Aurora 10-0. The second game scheduled for Maple Leaf Gardens was consequently cancelled. The rank goodness the Andrians have old Harry Davis left to look after cricket and boxing. Harry Watson did practically no coaching at all with the hockey team. The two basketball squads were both eliminated but the college's senior team was only slightly below Pickering in ability.

Harry Lumley, who guarded the twine cage for Barrie juniors and juveniles the past winter, has been signed by Detroit Red Wings and taken to Detroit for the series with the Leafs, tho' he believes Jimmy Franks is the understudy for Johnny Mowers. Lumley is 17 years of age and hails from Owen Sound, where he played intermediate last year for the Orphans, who took the intermediate B honors from Markham flyers. Carson Cooper has been scouting Lumley and Eni Selzli of Milton for the Red Wings and Lumley has obtained a new lease on life. The Barrie club have come up with a fine investment for themselves. As you know, the pro teams turn over a nice cash sum to the amateur ranks for distribution among the amateur clubs in which a boy played. So Owen Sound and Barrie will cut the cake.

Jack Luck, former Newmarket Redman hockeyist and footballer, received his wings at London last week. Jack is a sergeant bombardier now and after a further course is destined to see some action.

Fit-Lieut. Smythe of Aurora this winter coached the R.C.A.F. Cougars hockey team overseas, and the big cats reached the finals before being dented by the Dynamieters. Mr. Smythe is a padre with the airmen and previous to moving to Aurora to reside was the Anglican minister at Alliston. His wife and family reside opposite the Aurora town park.

Academy, former Aurora footballer, we learn is confined to hospital in Newfoundland and likely to be so for some time to come, from all we can gather. We are

NEWMARKET NEW LAMPS FOR OLD IS W. I. WAR MOTTO

Members of the Newmarket Women's Institute were busy last week taking a course on the re-modelling of old clothes. Miss L. E. Kidd, of the Women's Institute, superintendent of the department of agriculture, and Miss M. A. Clarke, superintendent of Women's Institutes, Toronto, were in charge.

Owing to the tremendous increase in the amount of cloth being used for the army, navy and air force and other demands on material, it is important that all possible material be conserved, Miss Clarke stated. Re-modelled clothes will be high fashion this spring.

Many and varied are the articles being remodelled from old garments. Mrs. W. M. Cockburn has made herself a new spring suit out of her husband's wedding suit, which was 19 years old. Another member of the Institute has made her five-year-old son a suit out of her worn spring coat. Another industrious member has made herself a housecoat out of bedspread that was of no further use. Blouses, dresses and skirts were all being made.

Pictures were taken of the group and project by the national film board for the wartime information board on Friday morning and afternoon. These will be shown to women's clubs all across Canada.

To show how the girls and young women are supporting the conservation program, ten girls are demonstrating the work which they carry on in their

More Hogs But Not Bigger Hogs Wanted, Representative Says

If you want advice about your investments, read the Financial Post.

If you want advice about farming, read a farm magazine or your local weekly newspaper.

Thus Gordon L. Smith, one-time agricultural editor of the Toronto Globe, now apparently the farm expert of the Financial Post, has some surprising things to say about hogs in last week's Post.

Even the glib editor of The Era and Express was surprised, and he hastened down to the county department of agriculture to see if the Post had "scooped" the farm and county press.

Consultation with Agricultural Representative W. M. Cockburn would seem to indicate that Mr. Smith is misinformed, particularly when he states that the marketing weight of hogs has been increased, and that "before the war is over this tendency may go much farther."

First statement to which Mr. Cockburn objected was this: "Especially long, narrow pigs have been bred with the object of producing the tastiest and highest quality of bacon."

Time was when hogs were too short and, according to Mr. Cockburn, agricultural departments began to emphasize the need for length "but we want width too, not narrowness."

Mr. Smith tells how Canadian farmers produced quality bacon for the British market before the war. He says that "to make the best quality, hogs were marketed at about 210 pounds liveweight and a few pounds either way was penalized by price dockage. Such a market weight, it should be remembered, is 50 to 150 pounds lower than that prevailing in other countries and those extra pounds are produced much more economically than the first 200."

In those days there were several statements with which Mr. Cockburn disagreed.

Hogs have been, and are still, marketed at from 190 to 210 pounds. "We recommend 200 pounds, if anything, less than 200 rather than more," said Mr. Cockburn. "And both the dominion and provincial $1 subsidies emphasize this advice, for a 210-pound hog, grading 80 percent, would give a dressed weight of 168 pounds, just under the maximum 170-pound requirement for an A grade carcass."

"The average dressing percentage at the plants today is 78 percent, which means a good many kill out over 80 percent, and if 210 pounds on the hoof, would go over the 170 pound A grade limit."

"Aside from the 170-pound dressed limit, once a pig gets over 200 pounds on the hoof he is liable to

Medical And Dental Survey Of School Children Suggested

Would Give Children Free Physical Examination, Action To Remedy Defects Would Rest With Parents

The health of Aurora's school population was under consideration at a meeting of the social service and sanitation committee of the Aurora town council on Monday evening.

Dr. G. W. Williams, M.O.H., was present and expressed the viewpoint of the town's medical men. Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntion was in the chair. Other council members present were Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks and Councillors Ross Linton and A. A. Cook.

Others attending the meeting included Mrs. F. A. Barnes, Mrs. Jack Crabtree, Mrs. Lorne C. Lee, Wilfred Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of the Gospel Tabernacle.

Dr. Guntion asked Dr. Williams' opinion on the advisability of employing a public health nurse or a V.O.N. nurse for the town.

Anticipating that the question would arise, Dr. Williams said, he had consulted the other doctors. "We are against it, because we don't think that there would be a worth-while return for the money spent," said Dr. Williams.

"Our suggestion is a health survey in the schools," "What would that cost?" asked Dr. Guntion.

"If you obtain the council's approval in principle we will work out a plan and see what it will cost," said Dr. Williams.

Dr. Guntion said that a dental survey in the public school last year had revealed 1,000 defects. Dr. Williams said that a general survey, which would include a physical examination but not x-ray, would reveal that 70 percent of the school children had eye, ear, nose or throat defects.

He said that the procedure following such a survey would be to send the information concerning each child to the parents, and then it would be up to them to take what action they saw fit. The survey would be both medical and dental.

It was suggested that the Aurora board of trade might be asked to look after defects revealed in children whose parents were unable to finance recommended corrections.

Outdoor toilets, regarded as a danger to the good health of the town, were discussed.

"There is a crying need for fats and irons," Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntion said at a meeting of the Aurora town council's social service committee on Monday evening.

Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks and Councillors Ross Linton and A. A. Cook took part in the meeting. There was discussion of the difficulties in gathering salvage and also in arranging for its prompt removal from the town.

The fact that scrap iron is piled high in Toronto does not mean that it is not needed, it was explained. Such an accumulation of scrap is part of the country's reserve and is available for immediate use when needed.

"Many women are anxious to get rid of fats they have been collecting," Mrs. Lorne C. Lee, representing the Aurora wartime prices and trade board committee, told the meeting.

"The school children did such a fine job with rubber that I would like to see them marshalled to gather fats," said Mrs. Lee. "Many women have the fats but are not particularly anxious to take them downtown."

Mrs. Lee said that householders could take their fats to the butchers.

It was decided to take up with the public school Junior Red Cross the collection of rags, and to discuss with the schools the collection of fats.

Another war subject under discussion was entertainment for the 54 soldiers at the ordnance plant.

Committee Will Help Red Cross Find Nursing Room

A promise of co-operation with the Red Cross emergency nursing reserve was given by the Aurora town council's social service committee on Monday evening.

Mrs. F. A. Barnes and Mrs. Jack Crabtree told of their need for a room from which nursing supplies could be distributed in cases of need, and where a bed and other equipment could be kept for nursing practice.

Mrs. Barnes said that those taking the course signed an undertaking that they would not nurse for remuneration after the war.

Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntion, the chairman, and Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks said that they would ask the council to consider the possibility of sharing the present council chamber with the Red Cross, and letting the Red Cross have it entirely after the council moves to new quarters in the Bank of Montreal building.

The town takes over the building on April 1, Dr. Guntion said. Immediate moving to the new quarters, however, is not expected.

Juvenile Court Of Honor Is Proposed For Aurora

A juvenile court of honor for Aurora was one of the interesting proposals considered by the town council's social service committee on Monday evening.

Councillor Dr. G. A. C. Guntion said that this plan existed in parts of the United States. The boys and girls of the town have their own court where they try juvenile offenders, he said. Parents are asked to co-operate in seeing that penalties are observed.

In the event of disregard of the court's decrees the town police take over the case and take the offender into an ordinary juvenile court, Dr. Guntion explained.

"Has any Ontario municipality used this plan?" asked Deputy-Reeve C. E. Sparks.

"Not that I know about," said Dr. Guntion. "There is no reason why Aurora shouldn't lead the way."

A number of citizens attending the meeting expressed interest in the proposal.

"A juvenile court of honor is impressive and often has a great influence over the boys and girls," said Dr. Guntion. He said that the wanton destruction of property would be typical of the charges before such a court.

Aurora Becomes Hydro Municipality On April 1

Aurora becomes an Ontario Hydro-Electric municipality on April 1. The outward changes will not be noticeable at the present time.

Two representatives of the Ontario Hydro-Electric met with Councillor Ross Linton's electric light committee and other members of the town council last evening to discuss the change-over.

There will be a new set of books opened, but the clerk's home-making clubs. How to launder sweaters so that they will not shrink or weaken the fabric and the care of clothes in the home to make them last longer were photographed.

The ladies taking the course were Mrs. Max Smith, president, Mrs. N. L. Mathews, vice-president, Mrs. Arthur Boyd, district director, Mrs. W. M. Cockburn, Mrs. Fred Penrose, Miss L. Toole, Mrs. T. Watson, Mrs. H. M. Hooker, Miss Bertha Neilly, Miss C. Dennis, Mrs. Jack King, Mrs. Les. Boynton, Mrs. Sid Demorest, Mrs. Stanley Miller and Mrs. Ross Evans.

Helping to House Canada's War Workers

WHEN the huge shell-filling plant came to his town, Charles Hunter got to thinking about the critical shortage of housing : : and about the two large cottages he owned. It wouldn't cost much to modernize and sub-divide them to make comfortable homes for four families.

He talked it over with his bank manager, who extended him a $600 loan. With the money, Hunter not only converted his cottages but took part of the loan, along with some of his rental income, to remodel another house to accommodate eight single individuals.

With the aid of the bank Hunter helped to provide urgently needed homes for war workers. He has now paid off all but $100 of the loan. A very small amount paid out for interest has thus enabled him to more than double his former revenues.

Such modest, highly useful loans typify the contributions that the banks make to Canadian enterprise. The above story is an actual case—only the name has been changed.

More than 5,000 experienced bank men out of 14,433 have gone into the armed forces since war began. This throws a greater burden on remaining staffs and new employees. Do your banking early in the day. Pay small bills by cash instead of cheque wherever possible. It all helps.

BEAUTY FOR ASHES

By GOLDEN GLOW

I expect you all know where my title comes from—Beauty for Ashes—"to give unto them beauty for ashes, the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness." Isaiah 61: 1-4. What more appropriate heading could I find for a Golden Glow article at this time of the year? For now the melting snow discloses the ash-piles and debris of the winter underneath, scarring and marring "our good earth."

However, this week brings the vernal equinox, or the first day of spring, next Sunday, March 21, and every day the sun gets warmer and shines with increased power.

But, by the alchemy of nature, the ash heaps and dead leaves soon will be changed into spring blossoms. The amazing tender little bulbs are already sending up green shoots that later blossom into flowers. Very soon the willow trees will put on their new yellow spring dress, and already the pussy-willows have tiny, furry "kittens" along their stem.

"Beauty for Ashes"—isn't that typical of Isaiah? Those three words paint a complete word picture! And what's more, it is literally true, for after we have had the ashes removed and raked over the place, nature does her part by covering the unsightly spot with a carpet of verdant greenery. You would not think it possible anything would grow in such a place, but nature is a wonderful healer, and, given a chance, will repair the damage.

I have before this written about the wonderful Butchart gardens at Victoria, B.C., but for fear you have forgotten I had better say that it was once a very unsightly unused quarry, and a definite eyesore to the neighborhood. That, to my mind, is a perfect example of what I mean, for if that isn't "beauty from ashes" then what can we say to best describe it? They made the "desert blossom as the rose," most literally, and the world owes them a definite debt of gratitude.

Then Mr. Butchart's brother's garden at Owen Sound is another splendid example, set as it is along the shore of the Georgian Bay. And the Harry Oakes famous garden over at Niagara Falls. Then what about Belfountain on the Credit river, near Caledon? All of these famous gardens have been generously thrown open to the general public.

Then what about that beautiful garden right on the beach at Thunder Bay, where all the soil had to be transported to the enclosed space which now is a lovely garden. To bring it right home to Newmarket, what about that beauty spot, the Memorial Park, opposite St. Paul's Anglican church? It was once most definitely a horrible dump—that was "Beauty from Ashes" if anything

Of People And Things

SHOWERS

By Isabel Inglis Colville

I'm not going to write about the warm spring showers that we HOPE will come soon to wash away the last remnants of snow and sink down warm and comforting into the cold waiting earth. Nor am I going to write of the later showers when buds are swelling and the earth is warm and dry. Is there any smell as lovely as that which rises after such a shower?

And maybe some lilacs have just opened in it enough for their fragrance to be felt around one like a phantom perfume. For these we have to wait.

But I was invited to a shower the other day. I suppose one calls this kind artificial, in contrast to mother nature's, although both bring pleasure. All we people in this neighborhood were interested, so, knowing the capriciousness of the weather of late, we all gazed with anxious eyes at the sunset—it was too brilliant? Did sun dogs crouch menacingly at either side? Did the moon look clear and bright with no misty circle to cloud its glory?

The consensus of opinion exchanged over the telephone seemed to be favorable, and all that was doubtful was the state of the roads.

Morning broke, not so fair, but not too cold, and the sun soon got to work and chased the faint mist that at first made one fear rain.

"How are you going to walk that slippery, sloppy road and carry those parcels safely?" asked mother, referring to various gifts which I was taking from people who could not attend.

"That remains to be seen," said I, none too happily for my power to retain my equilibrium on ice is, to say the least, poor. However, just near noon the phone rang and a voice said, "If you haven't already a way there is one for you."

If the telephone had been the speaker I'd have cast myself into her arms and sang a song of thanksgiving, for when I looked up the road to the hill leading to Harper's, I saw it growing taller and icier minute by minute.

When ready to go I had to return to the house so often for dizziness I'd forgotten that I was dizzy when finally Mrs. Ridley and I climbed into Mrs. Douglas McClure's car.

And what a road was there, my countrymen! If two large serpents with no sense of the value of a straight line between two given points had crawled up the hill to Harper's, they might have left ruts like those, and to cap what was already a climax, another car came towards us in the same rut. However, by dint of backing and co-operation, we finally oozed past each other and reached the scene of the shower, the home of Mrs. Leslie Harper who, with Mrs. Albert Ridley were giving the shower for Frances Stickwood.

After Tuesday no one need say that women are not determined creatures, for they came in cars and on foot, over unbelievably bad roads, and seemed to find a certain exhilaration in the process, for everyone was happy.

The bride-to-be sat beneath a rose and white petalled umbrella while pink and white streamers fell gracefully round her. A rose and white basket was carried in by Joan and Shirley Wilkins. Edith Kay and Mary Sheridan. Filled to overflowing it was replenished three times with gifts to delight any girl's heart.

The last gift was a tray from Mrs. Colville's Christmas girls presented by Mrs. Albert Ridley. Frances thanked the givers very feelingly and was then escorted to the table of honor where were already seated, her aunt, Miss L. Stickwood, Mrs. Chas. Haines, Mrs. Charles Toole, Mrs. Ezra Penrose and Mrs. Earl Toole, who poured coffee. Everyone enjoyed the dainty repast and then it was time to face the road again. It hadn't improved but our faith in our driver was absolute, and we wriggled and bumped home in safety.

This shower, like nature's own, was beneficent and left the showered one with many buds and blossoms of love and friendship that will accompany her through the years to be.

HOW DO YOU READ?

I have read somewhere that to read aloud well was a great art, and I think there is a great deal of truth in it.

I can remember long ago a friend of mine who loved to read aloud, and, sad to relate, did so on the slightest provocation. She enjoyed it, but her listeners were left with a bewildered sense of having listened to something which had no meaning. I've even found myself getting purple in the face trying to breathe for her as she raced ahead with a reckless disregard for such minor things as punctuation marks.

And I sometimes think people read to themselves like that. They get a general idea of what the writer has in mind but the fine points, the word pictures, the subtle beauty of some phrase is passed over in their race against time.

To me the pleasure in reading is what I have left when I lay the book down. It may be a certain character that stands out, one who has something I lack but which I long to have and just to read about this person may have given me an idea how to incorporate bits of the desired attribute into my own personality. Or it may be the description of a place. Reading L. M. Montgomery's "Anne" books has given me such a desire to see Prince Edward Island that I will never be satisfied till I can compare my impressions gathered from those books with reality. But, and here's the point, I have those impressions of beauty firmly fixed in my mind. I can close my eyes and think I see the red roads, the blossoming apple orchards, the wonderful sunrises and sunsets on the gulf. I can see these by faith and can only hope that sight will come later.

And reading Morton's travels through the British Isles made me feel that if ever one got there the places would be friendly. One had seen them in the dreams, and that reading leaves behind. With reading one can live all one's life in the one spot and still know the world.

I remember my first sight of New York. Someone asked me what I thought of it, how it had impressed me and I could only say it was exactly as I had pictured it.

There is one thing I've often wondered about. When you read the description of a person you can nearly always attach a personality to the description which will come somewhere near the author's idea. This you can prove if you ever get illustrated editions or see a movie presentation of the book, but day by day we listen to news commentators and broadcasters, and from voice and opinions we try to form a picture of the person. Maybe you succeed. I don't. I've often had a good laugh at my picture and then maybe get a chance to compare it with the reality or an authentic photograph. Sometimes the result is disappointing.

I heard a friend say she went to hear a speaker to whom she had often listened and enjoyed over the radio. His appearance was so entirely different and, yes, disappointing that she'll have difficulty getting into a receptive attitude again. His appearance will come between her and his words.

I suppose the Bible has the greatest word pictures in the world. The 23rd Psalm is an unforgettable one—the shepherd tenderly leading those who will follow beside the still waters and along quiet, pleasant paths. Jesus speaking to the weary, heart-sick crowds in the green open spaces. One sees their attentive faces as they drink in the new doctrine of love.

Every book we read leaves at least one unforgettable picture to hang on memory's wall. If it doesn't it hasn't been worth the reading. I often think that if I live to be very old and my sight grows dim I will have these pictures to look at. They will be my comfort.

ever was, and our local Horticultural society deserves our heartfelt thanks, together with the Veterans, for its transformation.

And again, look at the grand little park with the civic flag-staff beside the dam. Picture that whole corner as it once was and now recall its beauty last summer. The west bank of the stream was a mass of rosy morn-petunias till the frost cut them down. Now trees and seats and delightful green grass invite us to stop a while and sit by the water and admire the lovely willow trees on the opposite bank. Truly "Beauty from Ashes."

And let us at the same time pay a tribute to the memory of the late Edgar Bogart, who planted the evergreens around the South African memorial at the foot of Main St. He was indeed a lover of beauty in nature, and the town suffered a decided loss at his passing.

WAR WHOOP

1943 MODEL

YOU HEAR IT at all hours : : that long-drawn cry of the locomotive whistle. It's the war whoop of the railways.

It may be a troop train speeding to keep a date with a convoy... it may be a long freight loaded with tanks, guns and other materials of war, many of them built by the railways themselves... it may be another week's supply of raw materials to keep a war plant in production, or food, fuel and other essentials for the home front.

It is the proud war whoop of Canada's greatest war industry—the railways, which are serving the nation as effectively in war as in peace. Only the railways can furnish mass transportation on such a scale.

Your railways were ready... ready in war, so that Canada could strike with all her might. They will be ready in peace again to serve a greater Canada... rolling ever forward on highways of steel.

Sailor On Convoy Duty Thanks Red Cross Ladies

Mr. Fred Harper of Saskatoon is visiting his mother, Mrs. R. Harper, and sister, Mrs. J. Siorach. The hall board held a St. Patrick's dance last Wednesday evening. The hall was nicely decorated for the occasion and a dance of the orchestra provided the music. During the evening several prizes were given away. Miss Marion Stokes and Jas. Guntun won the two hassoeks. Miss Smith of Sandford won a cup and saucer and Mr. Smoekum a billfold for the best old-time dancers. Mrs. Earl Harrison won the prize for waltzing, which was a lovely vase, and a cup and saucer prize for a lucky spot dance went to a lady. The W.A. of the United church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Wheeland last Wednesday evening when 18 ladies were present. The ladies decided to do some papering and painting at the parsonage. The ladies buy a war savings certificate each month. The following is an extract from a letter addressed to Mrs. W. L. Carruthers and the ladies of Mount Albert Red Cross from Sub-Lieut. J. David Bohme.

"Thank you very, very much for the lovely blue turtle-neck sweater you sent me," he writes. "It certainly is a beauty and you can't imagine how welcome it is, especially on these cold winter nights. I have been in the navy for a year and at present I am on a minesweeper doing convoy duty, but you know, I cannot tell you where I am or where I have been. I am in charge of gunnery and depth charges, both of which are very interesting. I also have the canteen on board, censoring and accounting to look after, so have little difficulty in keeping myself busy."

"Thank you and the other ladies again. We boys in the service realize what a splendid job the Red Cross is doing in supplying woolens and other articles, so keep up the good work and best of luck to you all."

Many will remember Lieut. Bohme as a boy when his father was manager of the Dominion bank at Mount Albert.

Marsh Growers Launch Purchasing Co-operative

A Holland Marsh Vegetable Growers' Co-operative was organized by the growers on the Holland Marsh at a meeting in the Ansoorveld school-house recently.

The new co-operative will purchase fertilizer, machinery and seeds at the best possible prices and later in the season will purchase containers. It is hoped by the organizers that the co-operative will eventually undertake the marketing of the produce.

The officers of the co-operative are: president, J. Lindner; secretary, C. Brouwer; treasurer, Chas. Davis; committee, W. Valentein, W. Osadchuk, and Ron. Jacques; auditors, D. Parry and Joe Sidel.

AN EXTRA PAIR OF GLASSES

In England, duplication of lost or broken glasses means a wait of from six to eight weeks. Here in Canada, normal optical service is fairly well maintained at present.

If you are dependent on your glasses, you would be wise to procure an extra pair now. An attractive but durable shell frame is a logical choice... they're particularly comfortable, and are ideal for driving, golf, and other sports.

May we suggest that your extra glasses be fitted with CORECTAL lenses. They give you full wide-angle vision... they're clear to the very edge.

POLICE COURT

TWO FINED FOR GOING TOO FAST ON YONGE

When York county police court was held in Newmarket on Tuesday, two members of the Canadian army were each fined $15 and costs or ten days for exceeding the speed limit on Yonge St. Both soldiers pleaded not guilty to travelling at 60 miles an hour. They were Major R. A. Fisher and L-Cpl. J. Payne, both of Camp Borden.

In the case of L-Cpl. J. Payne, Constable Ferguson told his worship that he had timed the defendant in Vaughan township at 3.10 p.m. on March 9. L-Cpl. Payne had been driving an army truck in the vicinity of Bond Lake at "60 miles an hour or a little better."

"I thought that he showed a disregard for the traffic rules of the province," stated the witness. "He continued to drive in this way, although he knew that I was following."

In his defence L-Cpl. Payne said that he didn't know that the officer was following. He had been on his way to Toronto to pick up a prisoner and thought that he had been driving at 47 or 48 miles an hour.

"If you drive an army truck you better keep down the rate of speed just the same as if you are driving any other vehicle," warned Magistrate Woodliffe. "You have more right to exceed the speed limit even if you are driving an army car. However, I'll give you the benefit of the doubt and fine you the minimum of $15 and costs or ten days."

In the case of Major Fisher, Provincial Constable Alex. Ferguson told his worship that he had clocked the accused at 11.40 a.m. on Jan. 23 and found him at times exceeding 60 miles an hour. He had timed him between Bond Lake and Aurora.

"The road was particularly slippery in spots on this morning," stated the police officer.

In his defence Major Fisher told his worship that the Quarter-Master General had been visiting Camp Borden and had missed his train back to Toronto. He said that he had been ordered to drive him back to the city and while there received a telephone call from Camp Borden, to return as quickly as possible. He said that he had been driving for over 20 years without having any traffic convictions registered against him.

"I don't think that it was necessary to exceed the 40 miles per hour speed limit," stated Magistrate W. F. Woodliffe. "However, I'll treat you the same as I treated the other soldier. I'll fine you the minimum of $15 and costs or ten days."

On a charge of failing to produce his operator's license at the request of the police officer, his worship remanded the defendant for sentence. Major Fisher said that he was the owner of a driver's license but did not have it with him at the time.

DON'T COUNT ON EARLY

forces mail and a much larger volume of commercial mail. We are restricted as to the employees we can take on. If men are physically fit and under 45 years of age we cannot employ them."

Col. Mulock said that city deliveries had been reduced from two to one a day, and that postmen making two heavy deliveries were finding routes too long and that the routes had to be shortened. He paid tribute to the co-operation of postal employees, including "our rural postmasters and rural carriers."

"We have taken on many extra duties," said Col. Mulock. "We have collected over three million pounds of rubber without expense to this country. Postmasters are handling war savings certificates, national registration, unemployment insurance and ration cards. Postmasters have taken on this extra work gladly."

He told of the extension of Trans-Canada Airlines from coast to coast as a publicly-owned service. "We are clearly one of the most favored countries in the world so far as air transport is concerned," Col. Mulock said. "After this war Canada, in my opinion, will be one of the leading countries in the world in air transport and air passenger service. We will be able to employ large numbers of men, who are now willing to give their lives, doing the thing they want to do."

Col. Mulock said that the post office department paid the department of transport for operating Trans-Canada Airlines and that deficits had now been turned into a profit. "From now on I am satisfied that so far as the post office department is concerned, Trans-Canada Airlines will show a substantial profit."

Col. Mulock said that when he became the minister there were "a great number of complaints about the loss of parcels, particularly of tobacco." As the result of study, his department set up a new system of delivery in co-operation with the tobacco companies. Postal employees go into the factories and seal the bags, which are opened by other Canadian postal employees on delivery overseas.

"We have given virtual registered mail service" said Col. Mulock.

Col. Mulock told of his visit to Britain by plane and travelling 3,500 miles in Britain to various camps and stations to investigate the mail deliveries and talk to the men. Britain too had lost many of her most experienced postal employees and mail delays were inevitable at times, he said.

President Frank Bowser was chairman. He said that he thought that "the people of Canada were probably like the people of Newmarket. When they hear that there is an English" mail in, people flock to the post office. And if there is no letter for them, they look pretty blue."

He wished Col. Mulock luck in seeing that the soldiers' mail got across safely.

N. L. Mathews, K.C., introduced the speaker. "Anything Col. Mulock has been asked to do to help the town of Newmarket he has done very willingly," said Mr. Mathews.

Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales said after Col. Mulock had spoken: "It is a great thing when we can sit down here in our progressive little town of Newmarket at the same table with the postmaster-general. Give our approval to your government, as long as they are the government, and as long as they press the war to an unconditional surrender."

REDUCE RATE A MILL

made a plan to raise part of the money we would make a grant. They have done nothing. The main responsibility would fall on us."

"No," said Dr. Dales. "Our support is from month to month. We can withdraw it at any time."

"There is a scarcity of nurses," said Mr. Dixon. "Why should we provide for another one when our council committees have cut down their budgets so that we could reduce the mill rate?"

"Since that motion was made, I believe that there was an advertisement published asking all nurses to register," said Councillor Frank Bowser. "There is a need for public health nurses. I am still in favor of a V.O.N. nurse but we have got along without one. I didn't like the way that petition was brought before us, but it had a very good heading, that it is not an opportune time."

"After seeing that advertisement—it said nurses up to 65, and we don't want a nurse over 65—if the government wants nurses, let us get along with our home doctoring."

Councillor J. L. Spillette said that he understood, before the advertisement appeared, from Mrs. J. C. R. Edwards, that provision was being made by the government for V.O.N. nurses.

"I am still enthusiastic about it," said Mr. Spillette. "If health is what it is said to be in Canada it can only be improved by health services in the towns and villages, but if the government needs nurses that would change the situation."

"Big companies are giving up their nurses," said Reeve Fred A. Lundy. "Public opinion in the town is against having a nurse at the present time. I am afraid that the nurse would have an unhappy time against public opinion."

"You are a doctor, are hospitals having trouble getting nurses?" Mr. Lundy asked Dr. Dales.

"No, we have an excellent staff at the hospital," said Dr. Dales. "This is only a registration. It is only precautionary. Doctors had to register too."

Mr. Evans said that a Toronto hospital a few weeks ago advertised that it couldn't get nurses. Mr. Dixon said that another hospital was considering closing down for lack of nurses.

"Do you want to vote on this or withdraw it?" asked Dr. Dales.

"I will withdraw it," said Mr. Bowser. "I moved the resolution."

"If you wish to withdraw it, it is all right," said Mr. Spillette. "It is not necessary to vote on it."

"Do you want to vote on it?" repeated Dr. Dales.

"The layman doesn't know if this is the type of nurse we are short of," said Mr. Spillette. "If there is a critical shortage of public health nurses I am in favor of withdrawing it. If not, I am still in favor of it."

"You can get a nurse," said Dr. Dales.

Mr. Spillette said that it was not necessary to have a vote.

"I hope that this is not the last we hear of this nurse question," said Dr. Dales. "I don't think that any member of the council wants to hear the end of it. I think that we owe a lot to the men and women who have worked on this, and run into a stone wall, perhaps a shortage of nurses."

Sutton Juveniles Win Overtime Game 5-1

By BILL HASKETT

Last Thursday was juvenile hockey night in Sutton, and again for the second time within a week they applied the kyo punch to Newmarket's teen-aged hopefuls. The first time they knocked off the local boys by a 6-5 score. This time they hung a 5-4 defeat on Cliff Gunn and company. Both times the games went into overtime.

Before they got to Sutton, the boys had quite a time rounding up transportation and finally when they got there they were a couple of men short. To make up for the lack of players Coach Cliff Gunn of the local club had to put on skates and help the boys out. Cliff's little over-age for a juvenile entry, but that shouldn't make such a difference to Sutton because a couple of their boys are over the 17-year-old mark. About three of them played junior against Newmarket three years ago.

Don Smith, Bob MacInnes, H. Tunstead and Bob Smith were the goal-getters for the Newmarket club. Bob MacInnes' goal was deflected off the skate of an opposing player.

Two of the Newmarket boys suffered painful although not serious injuries. Anderson, the centreman on the second line, got a nasty crack on the nose and Cliff Gunn, who went in to pinch-hit for one of the regulars, stopped a shot from a Sutton player's stick and suffered a cracked rib.

Up in the Lake Simcoe village they advertise the games with big posters and by doing this they have a fair crowd out to watch the game. The attendance was much better than usual. Although it was mild outside the ice in Sutton was good, almost as smooth as glass. The boys went to the northern village with dull skates expecting it to be quite soft and got a surprise when the ice turned out to be real hard.

Ten minutes of overtime were required before a winner was decided in a third game between Newmarket and Sutton juveniles at Sutton last Thursday evening. Sutton won 5-4. The first game at Sutton went to Newmarket 8-7, the return game in Newmarket ended 6-5 in favor of Sutton after ten minutes of overtime. The play throughout the series was as even as the scores would indicate.

Play was very fast in the first period and both teams missed on several occasions what looked like certain goals. Lonergan hit the Newmarket goal post on one occasion. Buck Smith made it 1-0 after eight minutes of play. Six minutes later Keith Dunn skated through the team and passed to David Burrows to tie the score.

Four minutes of the second period had elapsed when Andy Lonergan made it 2-1 on a pass from George Holborn. Seven minutes later Harold Townstead tied the score on a shot from close in. Andy Lonergan and Gunn were handed penalties by Referee Ccc. Carpentier for high sticking. Townstead was given a penalty for tripping shortly afterwards.

In the final period Newmarket moved ahead again when Bob MacInnes batted in a rebound. Fifteen seconds later Roger O'Dell scored unassisted to make the score 3-3. Six minutes later Townstead broke away and went in on the Sutton net but Bill Holder, who turned in a fine performance, outgassed him only to have Bob Smith shoot the puck into the open net. Thirty seconds later Andy Lonergan took the puck from the face-off and skated through to tie the score 4-4.

After nine minutes of overtime Sutton took the decision on a well-earned goal by Andy Lonergan, George Holborn assisting on the play.
